

The King Kamehameha V Judiciary History Center

Hear Ye, Hear Ye! The Judiciary History Center will be open during 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. participating in the Children's and Youth Day Celebration by offering a rare opportunity to visit one of the oldest buildings in Honolulu. Built as a courthouse and government building by Kamehameha V, grandson of the Great King, the Judiciary History Center will be featuring short films, mini gallery tours, mock trials for groups, and coloring sheets. Bring a camera, put on a judge's robe and have your photo taken in a real courtroom. And if don't have a milkcap for the Slamo-rama contest, come over and pick one up at the Center.
